REMEMBERING A LEGEND

In August of 2002, the Los Angeles Lakers lost a cherished family member with the passing of Chick Hearn. More than an announcer, Chick embodied the spirit and determination that have made the Los Angeles Lakers champions 16 times over. The Lakers lone play-by-play voice since the team moved to Los Angeles prior to the 1960-61 season, Chick was the Lakers for the better part of four decades. With his words-eye-view of the game and colorful chickisms making his broadcasts truly one of a kind, it is a streak of unmatched proportions that will perhaps be Chick's lasting legacy. Beginning in Los Angeles on November 21, 1965 against the Philadelphia 76ers, Chick went on to broadcast 3,338 consecutive regular and postseason games, with the streak culminating in a 101-85 victory over the same Warriors on December 16, 2001. Two days later Chick underwent surgery to replace the aortic valve in his heart. The surgery was a success and Chick was expected to make a full recovery.

Anticipating a return to the broadcast booth on March 1, Chick was again befallen by bad luck as he suffered a hip fracture in a fall on February 17. This additional setback would force Chick to undergo a second surgery and more rehabilitation. Again, however, he persevered and on April 9th, returned to the booth to broadcast the Lakers 112-82 victory over the Utah Jazz. Shortly into the broadcast of a game that began with the sellout crowd of 18,997 giving Chick an extended standing ovation, the legendary announcer gratefully exclaimed, "This is the happiest I've been since I married Marge!"

Chick, along with his announcing partner of 15 years, Stu Lantz, broadcast the Lakers final five regular season games and each of the Lakers 19 playoff games. With Chick returning to his familiar position behind the mic, the Lakers season culminated on June 12 in New Jersey with their third consecutive NBA championship.

The refrigerator door might have closed for the final time on that June evening as the Lakers defeated the New Jersey Nets, but Chick will forever be remembered for the fervor and passion that he brought to each and every Lakers broadcast.

A TRIBUTE FROM MARK WHICKER

As a tradition set forth in the 2004-05 edition of the Lakers media guide, the Los Angeles Lakers organization will select a prominent Southern California media member each year to pen a tribute to Chick and carry on his legacy with a favorite story or anecdote about the man who came to be known as the "Voice of the Lakers."

This year, the Los Angeles Lakers are pleased to have long-time Orange County Register columnist Mark Whicker share some of his stories about the broadcasting icon. Whicker, 60, has been a sports columnist at the Register for 25 years, covering numerous World Series, Super Bowls, NBA Finals, Stanley Cup Finals, Final Fours, Olympics and major golf championships among other events. Prior to arriving on the Southern California sports scene, the North Carolina native served as a columnist at the Winston-Salem Journal, a reporter for the Dallas Times-Herald, a baseball and NBA beat reporter and columnist for the Philadelphia Bulletin and a columnist for the Philadelphia Daily News. Along the way, Whicker, currently a resident of Long Beach, CA, has been named Sportswriter of the Year in North Carolina and Pennsylvania by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association and has been named among the Top 10 sports columnists by the Associated Press Sports Editors.

Chick Hearn has been gone for 10 years and we hear him, clearer than ever.

Maybe that's how you measure how vivid a person is. He takes much longer to fade.

Maybe all the hot water he drank to keep his pipes limber is still working deep inside our ears, as we imagine how he would have narrated the past Laker decade.

It was too soon, of course, but at least Chick's final game was a championship game, with the Lakers finishing off a sweep in New Jersey, and he was spared the breakup of that particular team after the '04 season.

His statue is there in front of STAPLES Center, near those of Magic Johnson, Jerry West, Oscar De La Hoya and Wayne Gretzky, and when you walk past all those monuments on the way to a Sunday afternoon tipoff, you normally see more people posing with Chick than with any of the others.

We savored those great L.A. champions. But Chick was different. We knew Chick.

He was the Laker fan who sat beside us and elbowed us when somebody threw the ball away and jumped to his feet over the slaaaam dunks.

Somehow, he made the games matter more than they already did.

"He made me feel worthy to be a Laker," Rick Fox said at Hearn's memorial service.

This is not meant to criticize any of the thoroughly professional broadcasters who followed Chick or who handle Lakers games today. But, more than Magic and Shaq and Wilt and Gail and Silk and Worthy and Kareem, Chick was the one the Lakers couldn't replace.

Even the fellow who is doomed to replace Vin Scully will not have to reach quite as high, because Scully has gracefully edged toward the exits, only broadcasting the Dodgers' home and N.L. West games.

Chick never would have tolerated such an arrangement. Lakers games were forbidden to start without him.

He showed up at 2:30 for 7 p.m. games, putting in the effort to make it sound effortless.

And he worked 3,338 consecutive games. "Consecutive – that's the key word there," he would tell you.

His run blanketed the alltime NBA consecutive games played streak of A.C. Green, which reached 1,192 and lasted from November of 1986 to January of 2001.

Chick didn't miss a game between Nov. 21, 1965 and Dec. 15, 2001.

Eight Presidents served during that span. Rabbit ears evolved into mobile apps. The Lakers played home games in three arenas. Chick flew on dubious twin-engine propeller planes, watching Elgin Baylor and Jerry West play cards, and on sleek, carefree chartered jets.

There were nine NBA teams when the streak began and Michael Jordan wasn't yet born. There were 29 teams when it ended and Kobe Bryant was a 6-year veteran.

And let's not even get into the moon landing, the Berlin Wall, 3-D movies, hybrids, any of the cataclysmic ways the world changed in the time we were dialing in Chick.

As the years and the games and the dribble-drives and the popcorn machines wore on, I often wondered what sort of player Chick might have been.

Indestructible, certainly. Playing hurt wouldn't have been a problem.

A contentious defender, absolutely. Until Chick closed his famous "refrigerator" and pronounced the Lakers sure winners, he poured his soul into every syllable, whether it was the fourth quarter in Boston or the first minute in Cleveland.

Maybe a little too zealous, actually. Losses, especially playoff losses, damaged Chick. He would show up the next morning without the benefit of sleep, claiming to see harbingers of the Lakers' demise on the leaf of every tree.

With Chick around, who needed peer pressure? He was drilled in excellence and his team was, too. There were no excuses, neither on the floor or high above the Western sideline.

It is not a news flash or even derogatory to mention that Chick had a healthy ego, and he would be pleased and maybe even humbled to know how often his name still surfaces, in the press lounges and airport gates of the NBA.

Many nights a Laker would go down momentarily and Chick would blurt, "Magic Johnson has just torn up his knee!" only to calm the listeners when Magic would return a minute later.

What the audiences didn't hear was sometimes as entertaining. One night Chick was sitting just off the court, preparing for his pre-game, and was wearing his headphones. Lakers PR Director John Black waved to get his attention and told Chick, "Rumeal's playing," referring to recently injured guard Rumeal Robinson.

Chick heard only part of that. "What about the meal on the plane?" he bellowed.

Since Chick was once the Lakers' Assistant General Manager and was every bit as much a celebrity as the players, he was immune to suggestions about his broadcasting style. And although he ached for the Lakers, he was resolutely objective on the air. He habitually praised other players and only reluctantly criticized the refs. Rest assured those standards have not outlived him on NBA airwaves.

The fire did not even subside on the day in 1998 when he did his 3,000th consecutive game. The Lakers were only leading Orlando by three at the half, when Chick was given the video and accolade treatment by Lakers' management.

When Chick got the microphone he was gracious, but also worried.

"We've got this game to win first!" he yelled, as the players gathered in the tunnel. "C'mon Lakers, you're playing like dogs! They oughta give you some Alpo!"

Yet there was comfort in Chick's anxiety. Every night we knew we'd hear about nervous time in The Forum, the dribble drive, the sky hook, the bunny hop in the pea patch and the popcorn machine (there really was a popcorn machine at the Sports Arena, into which players got faked).

But there was also the lure of surprise.

After one magnificent Magic pass, Chick marveled, "He's got eyes in his ears."

After Dennis Rodman walked onto the court bearing his cascade of tattoos, Chick observed, "He's got more pictures on his body than I have in my house."

He was both a craftsman and a genius, eccentric and Everyman all at once. Perhaps the greatest tribute is that the whole of southern California now watches the Lakers like Chick did, breathlessly, from the edge of a cliff.

In that sense, Chick is all around us.

JERRY BUSS

In 1979, Jerry Buss ushered in an era of success unrivaled in the history of Southern California professional sports when he acquired the Los Angeles Lakers. In what was at the time the largest ever sports transaction, Buss purchased the Lakers, the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League, The Great Western Forum and a 13,000-acre Kern County ranch in June of that year. Now embarking upon his 34th season at the helm of the winningest franchise in NBA history, Buss has his sights set upon a return to the NBA Finals in pursuit of adding to the 10 Larry O'Brien trophies won under his watch.

The success of the Lakers is directly attributable to the combined efforts of great players, outstanding coaches, intelligent management and imaginative marketing. This teamwork, under Jerry Buss's direction, has helped create the enormous popularity and acceptance that the NBA enjoys today both nationally and abroad.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a Bachelor's degree in Chemistry, Buss earned his Ph. D in Physical Chemistry from the University of Southern California. After a brief career in the aerospace industry, Buss and Frank Mariani, an aerospace engineer, drew upon their scientific training to launch a career in real estate. For Buss, the venture was intended only to provide income which would enable him to pursue his love for teaching. Soon, however, the real estate firm of Mariani-Buss Associates was expanding so fast that its demands would not allow time for other professions.

Ultimately, Buss was able to parlay his original $1,000 investment in a West Los Angeles apartment building into assets that eventually enabled to him to achieve his second love, ownership of a major league sports team.

Since his entry into the NBA, Buss has initiated many innovative marketing changes including a major advertising agreement with Great Western Bank in 1988 that resulted in the Lakers' former home being named the Great Western Forum. Many of his marketing strategies are emulated today by various NBA franchises as well as teams in other leagues.

In addition to his role with the Lakers, Buss has served two terms as President of the NBA Board of Governors. Among other accomplishments, he helped launch Prime Ticket Network (now FS West/Prime Ticket) in 1985. Changing the face of sports television, Prime Ticket televised all of the Lakers home games and shortly became the nation's premier regional sports cable network. Media mogul Rupert Murdoch purchased the network in 1996, making the valuable commodity the center piece of the FOX family of regional sports networks. On October 30, 2006, Buss' pioneering spirit enabling fans to never miss a home game earned him a star on Hollywood's Walk of Fame in a ceremony attended by current Lakers players and staff, Hall-of-Famers Magic Johnson, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Jerry West and Phil Jackson, celebrities, the Honorary Mayor of Hollywood Johnny Grant, Lakers fans, close friends and family. And of that family, each of Buss' six grown children (Jeanie, Johnny, Jim, Janie, Joey and Jesse) are actively involved in his business operations.

Yet for all of his accomplishments in the business and sports world, Buss is equally respected for his philanthropic efforts on behalf of highly divergent causes. While he is specifically drawn to supporting education, the needs of disadvantaged youth and the elderly, his contributions are all encompassing and as diverse as the community in which he lives and works.

For his efforts he has been honored by such organizations as the City of Hope, NAACP, the B'nai B'rith, United Negro College Fund, United Indian Development Associations, American Hebrew University, National Organization of Women, Boys and Girls Clubs of America, Muscular Dystrophy Association, the Los Angeles Human Relations Commission and Heart of Los Angeles Youth among many others. He also funds scholarships at his alma maters, Wyoming and USC, as well as having endowed the Magic Johnson Scholarship at Michigan State University.

Buss and his entities annually donate thousands of dollars, tickets, merchandise and autographed items to support countless neighborhood schools, libraries and churches as well as non-profit organizations which attend to the needs of communities in Southern California. Most recently, Buss made a personal contribution of $100,000 in April of 2009 to New Image Shelter to support their efforts on behalf of homelessness in Los Angeles. In addition, when natural disasters and tragedies have struck, such as the Southern California wildfires in 2003, 2007 and 2008, Hurricane Katrina and the tsunami in Southeast Asia, Buss and the Lakers have been quick to offer assistance with sizable donations to charities providing immediate frontline disaster relief and long-term recovery support for those in need.

An avid poker player, Buss, who hosts tournaments to benefit charities such as Smile Train, has reached a level of proficiency where he has achieved success competing against the best professionals in the highest level tournaments.

His most recent success, however, caps three-plus decades of excellence leading the Lakers. Named to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's Class of 2010, Buss was enshrined in Springfield, Massachusetts on August 13, 2010. One of eight individuals and two teams comprising the 2010 class, Buss became the third Laker to enter the Hall as a contributor (Chick Hearn, Pete Newell).

LAKERS ENJOY UNPARALLELED SUCCESS DURING BUSS ERA

Since Jerry Buss purchased the Lakers prior to the 1979-80 campaign, the team has recorded the NBA's highest overall winning percentage (.663, 1761-897) while capturing 10 NBA Championships. The following is a list of the NBA's most winning teams (regular season) since Buss purchased the franchise.

JIM BUSS

Jim Buss begins his 15th season in the Lakers front office and eighth as Executive Vice President of Player Personnel. An Assistant General Manager for his first seven seasons, Buss has continued to work alongside General Manager Mitch Kupchak with duties that include the scouting of college players and assistance in all basketball operations of the team.

Buss, who studied mathematics at the University of Southern California, worked in several management positions at the Great Western Forum before serving as the President and General Manager of the Los Angeles Lazers of the Major Indoor Soccer League from 1985 to 1989. In that capacity, Buss evaluated talent, had a direct hand in player personnel decisions and was responsible for all day-to-day operations of the team.

Before joining the Lakers front office, Buss spent the previous nine years pursuing one of his life's passions, training thoroughbred racehorses.

Born November 9th, 1959, Buss is the second of Lakers owner Dr. Jerry Buss' six children.

Buss resides in Dana Point, California, and has one son, Jager.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, BUSINESS OPERATIONS

JEANIE BUSS

Entering her 14th season as the Lakers Executive Vice President of Business Operations, Jeanie Buss is responsible for overseeing all of the Lakers business operations including relationships with the team's broadcast partners, Time Warner Cable and ESPN Radio. Working closely with Lakers General Manager Mitch Kupchak and Executive Vice President of Player Personnel Jim Buss, Buss is also involved with the team's marketing, sponsorships and other business dealings.

Buss began her career at the age of 19 as general manager of World Team Tennis' Los Angeles Strings. While guiding the team to two league titles, she also created the Forum Tennis Challenge Series which became a regular part of the Great Western Forum calendar for years. Buss was responsible for bringing in players such as John McEnroe, Pete Sampras, Andre Agassi, Jimmy Connors, Steffi Graff, Chris Evert, Martina Navratilova and many other top professionals.

In 1993, Buss brought professional roller hockey to Los Angeles as the owner of the Los Angeles Blades. Her outstanding leadership and dedication earned her Executive of the Year honors by Roller Hockey International.

Prior to assuming her current position with the Lakers, Jeanie spent four years serving as the President of the Great Western Forum. Throughout her tenure with the Forum, Buss' involvement with the Lakers continued to increase and she has served as an Alternate Governor on the NBA Board of Governors since 1995. Named by the Sporting News in April 2005 as one of the Top 20 Most Influential Women in Sports, Buss serves as a board member on the Southern California Committee for the Olympic Games working to bring the Olympics back to Los Angeles. She also is a co-host of Basketball 101, a yearly event presented by the LA Sports and Entertainment Commission, a nonprofit organization which attracts events and attractions to Los Angeles.

Actively involved in the community, Buss serves as a spokesperson for the Sister to Sister Foundation, an annual event which promotes awareness for women's heart health. Buss also works internally with the Lakers Youth Foundation to raise money for Southern California Youth charities.

Buss graduated from the University of Southern California with a degree in business. She currently resides in Manhattan Beach.

MITCH KUPCHAK

After capturing two championships as a player and now seven as a front office executive, Mitch Kupchak's name has become synonymous with winning.

Entering his 26th season as a club executive and his 13th as the head of basketball operations, Kupchak has picked up right where close friend and mentor Jerry West left off. Since taking the reins prior to the Lakers first title defense in 2000-2001, Mitch's teams have compiled a 618-350 (.638), captured six Western Conference Championships and four NBA Titles while winning 64 percent of their postseason contests (111-62). Along the way, he has made moves such as trading for Pau Gasol, bringing back Derek Fisher, drafting Andrew Bynum, signing free-agent future Hall-of-Famers Karl Malone and Gary Payton and acquiring role players the likes of Trevor Ariza, Shannon Brown and Horace Grant (a trade involving four teams and 12 players that was, at the time, the largest such transaction in league history) to help keep Los Angeles competitive within the confines of the salary cap.

Kupchak's duties include a variety of responsibilities which keep him thoroughly active 12 months a year. Number one on the list is the day-to-day management of the team. Included in his management duties are personnel decisions, contract negotiations, salary cap concerns and strategy, overseeing the Lakers' entry in the annual Summer Pro League and the scouting of collegiate and international players. In addition to those tasks, he also deals with various marketing, public relations and other management functions.

Kupchak, who joined the Lakers front office in 1986 following a 10-year NBA career, has played prominent roles in the past success of the Lakers as well as in the club's recent return to the upper echelon of the NBA.

Originally a first round draft choice of the Washington Bullets in 1976 (13th overall), Mitch spent the first five years of his career with the Bullets, earning NBA All-Rookie Team honors following the 1976-77 campaign. He posted a career-best field goal percentage during his rookie season (.572), a figure which at the time represented the 10th highest in league history. During the 1977-78 campaign, Mitch played an important role in Washington's drive to the NBA championship, ranking second among all NBA reserves with a scoring average of 14.6 points per game while posting a career-high-tying 32 points against the Lakers on November 24, 1978.

The opening chapter to Kupchak's Los Angeles career was written August 5, 1981 when the Lakers acquired him from Washington in exchange for Jim Chones, Brad Holland and a pair of draft choices. A reserve during his five-year tenure with the Bullets, Mitch was quickly inserted into the Lakers starting lineup. During the first 26 games of the 1981-82 campaign, Kupchak averaged 14.3 points and 8.1 rebounds per contest. Unfortunately, Mitch suffered multiple injuries to his left knee during a game at the San Diego Sports Arena on December 19, 1981, an injury which required two major operations. It was feared - even expected - that he would never play again. After missing the entire 1982-83 campaign, Kupchak proved doctors wrong by rejoining his teammates on the floor during the early portion of the 1983-84 season after undergoing intensive daily therapy for 16 months.

His persistence paid big dividends the following year as the reserve forward/center played a vital role in the Lakers march to the 1985 NBA Championship. With the victory, Kupchak joined a select group of players to win an NBA championship with two different clubs. Additionally, he remains one of only five players in club history to convert at least 10 field goals in a game without a miss (11-11 vs. San Antonio 11/20/81, joining Wilt Chamberlain, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Byron Scott and Pau Gasol).

Prior to the start of the 1986-87 campaign and after yet another lengthy rehabilitation following an additional knee injury, Kupchak retired as a player and joined the front office. He concluded his NBA career averaging 10.2 points and 5.4 rebounds in 510 regular season games. His career field goal percentage of .523 still ranks 41st among the all-time NBA leaders (minimum 2,000 field goals made).

Due to his unfortunate injury and aware that his playing career would end prematurely, Kupchak studied for an MBA degree at UCLA during his spare time and rehabilitation stints, earning a degree in February of 1987. This foresight helped prepare Mitch for his present job as a professional sports executive.

A long-time Yankees fan who admired Mickey Mantle as a child, Mitch was born in Hicksville, New York on May 24, 1954 and starred at Brentwood High School on Long Island. An All-American standout at the University of North Carolina, Kupchak became the first freshman to play at the university after the freshman eligibility rules changed prior to the 1972-73 season. He averaged a career-high 18.5 points per game during his junior campaign and ranked eighth overall in the NCAA in field goal percentage that season (.602). As a senior, Mitch was named ACC Player of the Year and is one of 47 UNC standouts to have his jersey (#21) honored and raised to the rafters of the Dean Smith Center in Chapel Hill (November of 1994).

Prior to his initial NBA campaign, Mitch was the starting center on the gold-medal winning United States team in the 1976 Olympic Games.

An avid golfer, Mitch and his wife Claire live in Brentwood with their son Maxwell (15) and daughter Alina (13).

A graduate of SUNY-Stony Brook after transferring from NYU-Polytechnic following two seasons on the men's basketball team, Carraro completed his graduate coursework in Athletic Administration at St. John's University (1991-94) while also serving as the USBL's Director of Sales and Marketing/Operations from 1992-95. SPECIAL CONSULTANT

BILL SHARMAN

Selected as one of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History during the league's 50th anniversary season (1996-97), Bill Sharman begins his 23rd year as a Special Consultant with the Lakers. Providing the front office with a tremendous amount of basketball experience and a history of unparalleled success, Sharman began his basketball career in 1950 and has been an integral member of 17 different championship teams as either a player, coach or executive. His 17 titles, including 15 in the NBA, have been captured with four different teams, in three respective leagues and in four different capacities.

Sharman began his championship odyssey with the Boston Celtics, winning the first of four NBA titles as an active player in 1957. During his 10-year stint with the Celtics, Boston won four NBA Championships (1957, 1959, 1960 and 1961), finished in first place in the Eastern Conference five times and never suffered through a losing season. He earned All-NBA honors on seven occasions and participated in eight NBA All-Star Games, earning the Most Valuable Player award in the 1955 contest. Arguably the greatest shooter of his era and one of the most deadly free throw shooters in the history of the game, Sharman was the first NBA guard to post a field goal percentage above .400 for a season (.436, 1952-53) while his career free throw percentage (.883) still ranks 11th among the NBA's all-time leaders (minimum 1200 FT made). He led the NBA in free throw percentage seven times, including a league-record five consecutive seasons from 1952-53 through 1956-57. In 711 career games, Sharman averaged 17.8 points and 3.0 assists.

As a coach, Sharman is the only person in professional basketball history to win championships in three professional leagues (ABL, ABA and NBA). In his first season with the Lakers, Sharman led the club to their first NBA championship in Los Angeles, a then-NBA record and current franchise record 69 wins and compiled the longest winning streak in the history of professional sports (33 consecutive victories). It was during this legendary 1971-72 campaign that Sharman introduced the morning shootaround to the NBA, now routine for NBA teams on the day of games. Originally inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1976 as a player, in April 2004 Sharman became just the third individual (John Wooden, Lenny Wilkens) to be named to the Hall of Fame as both a player and coach.

Bill and his wife Joyce live in Playa del Rey. He has two daughters (Nancy & Janice) and two sons (Tom & Jerry) from a previous marriage.

MIKE BROWN

A proven NBA winner yet also a rising star in his profession, Mike Brown enters his second year with the Lakers looking to improve upon a 41-25 (.621) lockout shortened record in 2011-12 that saw Los Angeles finish atop the Pacific Division for the 23rd time in franchise history.

Named the 22nd head coach in franchise history (18th in the Los Angeles era) on May 31, 2011, Brown, who currently owns the sixth highest win percentage in NBA history (min. 400 games coached), joined the Lakers after previously serving as an NBA analyst for ESPN (2010-11) and head coach for the Cleveland Cavaliers (2005-10).

The 17th head coach in Cavaliers history, the then 35-year-old Brown, at the time the second youngest coach league-wide, quickly became one of the most successful. In five seasons, Brown compiled a 272-138 regular season record as well as a 42-29 postseason mark; at the time ranking fifth in NBA history (minimum 400 games) with a .663 regular season win percentage and 10th in NBA history (minimum 25 games) with a .592 playoff win percentage.

The fourth youngest coach in NBA history to win 60 games in a season (39 years old), Brown led the Cavaliers to the 2007 NBA Finals and NBA-best records in both 2008-09 (66-16) and 2009-10 (61-21). Named 2008-09 NBA Coach of the Year, his '08-09 team became just the 12th squad in NBA history to record at least 66 victories in a season while he and his staff earned the honor that year to coach the Eastern Conference All-Star Team at the 2009 All-Star Game in Phoenix, AZ. Leading the Cavaliers to no worse than the Eastern Conference Semifinals in each of his five seasons, Brown concluded his career in Cleveland with the most playoff victories and highest postseason win percentage in franchise history.

Prior to joining the Cavaliers, Brown spent two seasons as the associate head coach of the Indiana Pacers and three seasons as an assistant coach for the San Antonio Spurs. Posting a 341-201 (.629) record as an assistant coach, he won a division title with Indiana (2003-04) and three straight division titles with San Antonio (2000-03). In Indiana, he helped lead the Pacers to consecutive playoff appearances, including a trip to the Eastern Conference Finals in 2004. While with the Spurs, Brown was on the bench for the team's 2003 NBA Championship. Also serving as head coach for the Spurs' summer league teams in Boston and Salt Lake City during the offseason, over his three years with San Antonio, the Spurs won at least 58 games each season.

After attending high school in Germany at Wurzburg American High School, Brown, a 1992 graduate of the University of San Diego with a degree in business, played basketball two seasons at USD following two years at Mesa Community College. Upon graduation, the 41-year-old Columbus, Ohio native began his NBA career with the Denver Nuggets in 1992, where he spent five seasons, first as the team's video coordinator and then as a scout. Following his time with the Nuggets, Brown spent three years with the Washington Wizards beginning in 1997, serving the first two years as an assistant under Bernie Bickerstaff and his final year as the team's professional scout.

A participant in the NBA's Basketball Without Borders program in Johannesburg, South Africa during the summer of 2006, Brown and his wife, Carolyn, have been actively involved in community relations initiatives such as "Domestic Violence Center," "Cleveland Municipal School District," "Cleveland Christian Home" and "Shoes & Clothes for Kids" throughout his coaching career.

He and Carolyn reside in Anaheim Hills with their two sons, Elijah and Cameron.

BERNIE BICKERSTAFF

Entering his first season as an assistant coach for the Lakers, Bernie Bickerstaff brings almost 40 years of NBA experience to fellow University of San Diego alumnus Mike Brown's bench. Most recently an assistant coach for the Trail Blazers (2010-12) and Bulls (2008-10), prior to his time in Portland and Chicago, Bickerstaff was tabbed to guide the newly founded Charlotte Bobcats as both general manager and head coach in the team's first three seasons (2004-07) before serving as the club's Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations in 2007-08.

Bickerstaff, the 1986-87 NBA Coach of the Year, owns a 415-517 (.445) NBA head coaching record over 13 seasons with Seattle, Denver, Washington and Charlotte while ranking 39th on the NBA's all-time victories list. Receiving his first NBA head coaching opportunity with the Seattle Supersonics in 1985, Bickerstaff led his team to three playoff appearances over five seasons in the Pacific Northwest, one of which included a trip to the 1987 Conference Finals.

Following his time in Seattle, Bickerstaff joined the Denver Nuggets in 1990 as President and General Manager. During six-plus seasons in Denver, he was responsible for selecting four-time NBA Defensive Player of the Year Dikembe Mutombo in the 1991 NBA Draft while his team made history in the 1994 Playoffs, becoming the first eighth-seed to defeat a top seed in the first round. Bickerstaff took on head coaching responsibilities from 1994-96 but returned to his role solely as General Manager after hiring a coaching replacement 13 games into the 1996-97 season.

Midway through the 1996-97 season, Bickerstaff returned to Washington where he began his NBA coaching career back in 1973 as the league's youngest assistant coach at age 29. From 1973-85, he served in that capacity with the then Bullets, helping guide Washington to the 1978 NBA Championship, three NBA Finals appearances and 10 playoff berths. This time around as a head coach, Bickerstaff inherited a team that was 22-25 over the first 47 games. In spite of the sub .500 record, he guided the club to a 22-13 mark following the All-Star break that included a 16-5 record in the final 21 games as Washington qualified for the playoffs for the first time in nine seasons. Bickerstaff concluded his tenure in Washington with a 77-72 (.517) record after coaching most of the 1998-99 season.

Prior to coaching, Bickerstaff played two seasons each for the Univ. of San Diego and the Univ. of Rio Grande, where he was later awarded an honorary doctorate. San Diego also offered him his first coaching opportunity. Named an assistant coach for the 1968-69 season, he was elevated to head coach a year later and served in that capacity for the next four seasons. Through the years, Bickerstaff has been recognized with numerous awards and accolades. In 1987, he earned the prestigious Horace Mann Award for Leadership and was also named the 1987 Sports Person of the Year, presented by the New York Pro-Am Basketball Association. In 1995, Bickerstaff was inducted into the University of San Diego's Hall of Fame, was later inducted into the West Coast Conference's inaugural Hall of Honor and was a 2012 Breitbard Hall of Fame inductee. In 2010, he was inducted into the John McClendon Minority Athletics Administrators Hall of Fame and in 2011, was named a Kappa Legend and Icon in Sports. His hometown of Benham, Kentucky even named a street – Bernard Bickerstaff Boulevard – in his honor.

Bickerstaff, who has also served as a TV and radio analyst with the Wizards, Spurs, Sporting News Radio and NBA.com, and his wife, Eugenia, have five children and 11 grandchildren. Their youngest son, John-Blair is an assistant coach with the Houston Rockets.

ASSISTANT COACH

STEVE CLIFFORD

Steve Clifford joins the Lakers for his first season on head coach Mike Brown's bench after spending the past five seasons (2007-12) as an assistant coach for the Orlando Magic. Over five seasons on Stan Van Gundy's staff, Clifford helped the Magic to a 259-135 (.657) record, highlighted by a trip to the 2009 NBA Finals.

Prior to his time in Orlando, Clifford spent four seasons as an assistant coach with the Houston Rockets (2003-07) after working with the New York Knicks for three seasons, two as an assistant coach (2001-03) and one as an advance scout (2000-01).

Entering the NBA with more than a decade of college coaching experience, Clifford served as an assistant coach at East Carolina University for one season following four years as head coach at Adelphi University, where he compiled a record of 86-36 (.705). Leading Adelphi to four straight 20-win seasons, he became the first coach in school history to record consecutive 20-plus win campaigns while guiding the Panthers to four appearances in the NCAA Division II Tournament.

After gaining his first coaching experience over two seasons at Woodland High School in Maine, Clifford began his college coaching career as an assistant at St. Anselm's College in New Hampshire for four seasons. Following his time with the Hawks, he served one season as an assistant at Fairfield University, spent the next four seasons at Boston University and one season after that at Siena College before accepting the head coaching position at Adelphi.

Following a four-year playing career at the University of Maine at Farmington, Clifford, named Best Defensive Player in his final two seasons while serving as team captain, graduated with a degree in special education.

DARVIN HAM

After an eight-year NBA playing career and most recently serving as head coach of the NBA Development League's New Mexico Thunderbirds, Darvin Ham returns to the Lakers coaching staff for his second season on head coach Mike Brown's bench.

Entering the coaching ranks in unconventional fashion as an unofficial player-coach for the D-League's Thunderbirds during the 2007-08 season, Ham, after a brief stint with the Austin Toros, officially became the Thunderbirds top assistant in 2008-09 before being named head coach in July of 2010.

Undrafted after playing three seasons at Texas Tech, where he made headlines and the cover of Sports Illustrated for shattering a backboard during a second round victory over North Carolina in the 1996 NCAA Tournament, Ham began his NBA journey later that year when he signed as an unrestricted free agent with the Denver Nuggets; a team with a young Mike Brown working in its basketball operations office at the time. A member of the 2004 NBA Champion Detroit Pistons, Ham also played for the Indiana Pacers, Washington Wizards, Milwaukee Bucks and Atlanta Hawks during his career. In 417 career games, he averaged 2.7 points and 2.3 rebounds and was a participant in the 1997 NBA Slam Dunk Contest. In between NBA contracts, the Saginaw, Michigan native also played internationally in Spain, the Philippines and Puerto Rico as well as stateside in the NBA D-League, where he was selected by the Thunderbirds with the 3rd overall pick in the 2007 NBA D-League Draft.

The son of Wilmer Jones-Ham, who served as mayor of Saginaw from 2001-05, Ham, 39, has also worked in broadcasting, serving as an NBA studio analyst for Fox Sports Southwest and NBA-TV.

Ham, the proud father of three sons (Darvin Jr., currently a junior on Northwood University's mens basketball team in Midland, Michigan, Donovan (15) and Dominic (12)), resides in Playa Vista with his wife of 15 years, Deneitra.

EDDIE JORDAN

A member of the 1982 NBA Champion Lakers as a player, Eddie Jordan returns to the franchise for his first season on Mike Brown's coaching staff. Bringing a wealth of experience to the bench after having served as an NBA head coach for three different teams over nine seasons, Jordan is perhaps best known for his success implementing the storied Princeton Offense at the professional level. Jordan, who most recently served as head coach of the Philadelphia 76ers in 2009-10, has compiled a career regular season mark of 257-343 (.428) and a playoff record of 8-18 (.308) over nine seasons with Sacramento, Washington and Philadelphia.

Born and raised in Washington, DC, Jordan served as head coach of his hometown Wizards from the 2003-04 season through the first 11 games of 2008-09. After inheriting a Wizards team that posted a losing record in five straight seasons, Jordan was able to guide the 2004-05 Wizards to their highest win total in 25 years in just his second season, while giving Washington its first playoff berth since 1997 and advancing past the first round for the first time since 1982. Jordan's Wizards made four straight playoff appearances from 2004-05 through 2007-08; prior to his arrival, Washington made the playoffs just once over a 16-year span. With the Princeton Offense installed, Jordan's Wizards ranked sixth in the league in scoring in 2004-05, third in 2005-06 and fourth in 2006-07.

Before his time with the Wizards, Jordan served as the lead assistant coach on Byron Scott's staff in New Jersey from 1999-2003, helping the Nets to the NBA Finals in back-to-back years in 2002 and 2003. Prior to his work with the Nets, Jordan was an assistant coach with Sacramento for five seasons beginning in 1992, before being named head coach of the Kings for the final 15 games of the 1996-97 campaign. He would spend his first full season as an NBA head coach with the Kings for the 1997-98 season, his last year with the club.

After retiring from the NBA in 1984, Jordan was a volunteer assistant at his alma mater Rutgers. He followed Head Coach Tom Young to Old Dominion as a part-time assistant before landing an assistant coaching position at Boston College under Jim O'Brien where he served from 1986-88. He would later return to Rutgers as an assistant coach under Bob Wenzel from 1988-91.

Originally selected by Cleveland in the second round of the 1977 NBA Draft (33rd overall), Jordan averaged 8.1 points, 3.8 assists, 1.9 rebounds and 1.82 steals in seven seasons with the Cavaliers, Nets, Lakers and Trail Blazers. While with the Nets, Jordan led the league in total steals in 1978-79 and was second in 1979-80. Jordan was also a member of the Los Angeles Lakers' 1982 championship team. Prior to playing in the NBA, Jordan led Rutgers to the 1976 NCAA Final Four as a junior and was named East Regional MVP. Jordan was named honorable mention All-America after his senior year, while setting the Scarlett Knights all-time marks in assists and steals.

Jordan and his wife Charrisse have two children, son Jackson and daughter Skylar. Jordan also has three sons: Justin, Eddie II and Paul. Charrisse Jordan was appointed President of "Behind the Bench," a non-profit organization developed by the National Basketball Wives Association, which raises funds and awareness for charities that benefit women and children.

CHUCK PERSON

Chuck Person enters his third season as an assistant coach for the Lakers and fourth with the organization after spending the 2009-10 year assisting the team's coaching staff during its championship run.

Prior to his time with the Lakers, Person served four seasons as an assistant coach for Sacramento (2007-09) and Indiana (2005-07). Before joining the Pacers' bench, where he worked alongside then associate head coach Mike Brown, he served three seasons as a special assistant to the CEO/president of basketball operations for Indiana, working with Pacers and Indiana Fever (WNBA) players, both on and off the court. Additionally, he spent one season with the Cleveland Cavaliers before joining the Pacers' coaching staff.

A native of Brantley, Alabama, and an alumnus of Auburn University, Person concluded his career with the Tigers as the school's all-time leading scorer. Selected in the first round (4th overall) by the Pacers in the 1986 NBA Draft, he averaged 18.8 points and 8.3 rebounds in his first season and was named NBA Rookie of the Year. He spent six seasons with Indiana and ranks 10th on the team's all-time scoring list with 9,096 points. He recorded 34 points, 12 rebounds and 10 assists against New York on Feb. 20, 1986, becoming the first Pacers rookie in franchise history to record a triple-double. Person also played for Minnesota, San Antonio, Charlotte and Seattle over his 13-year NBA career. His career averages include 14.7 points, 5.1 rebounds and 2.8 assists per game.

Person and his wife, Carmen, reside in Redondo Beach and are the proud parents of Millicent, Tiffany, Chuck, Niketta, Raven and Jasmine.

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GM / BASKETBALL CONSULTANT

BILL BERTKA

Bill Bertka returns for his 32nd consecutive season with the Lakers and the 10th season in his current capacity. Having served as an assistant coach under seven Lakers head coaches dating back to 1981, Bertka brings a wealth of experience to the position. His talent as a scout and experience in player personnel matters make him an excellent resource for Mitch Kupchak, Jim Buss and the rest of the team's basketball operations staff.

First employed by the Lakers in 1968, Bertka served as a scout, assistant coach and director of player personnel up until 1974 when he left the club to join the expansion New Orleans Jazz as the team's general manager.

Bertka rejoined the Lakers in 1981 as an assistant coach and for the next 20 years was a key member on the staffs of Pat Riley, Mike Dunleavy, Randy Pfund, Earvin "Magic" Johnson, Del Harris, Kurt Rambis and Phil Jackson. Earning a victory over the LA Clippers as head coach February 25th, 1999 after Del Harris was relieved of his head coaching duties, Bertka became the oldest person to ever coach an NBA game at the age of 71. It was the second time in his career with the Lakers that Bertka was the interim head coach, previously having led the team to a 1-1 record prior to Earvin Johnson's 16-game tenure in 1994. Additionally, Bertka and Phil Jackson are the only people to serve as the team's head coach on two different occasions.

The Santa Barbara native is also well known for founding Bertka Views, one of the most successful college scouting services in the country, which he and his wife, Solveig, operated from 1961-1995. Throughout that time period, many of the nation's premier college basketball programs utilized Bertka Views as their sole scouting service. Adding another feather to his cap during the summer of 1992, Bertka served as a scout for the United States' Olympic basketball team at the European Qualifying Tournament in Zaragoza, Spain. In 1989, Bertka enjoyed the dual distinction of being inducted into each of his hometowns' respective Hall of Fames. In May of that year he was inducted into the Santa Barbara Sports Hall of Fame and just five months later in October, he was inducted into the Summit County (Ohio) Sports Hall of Fame where he grew up as a child. Most recently in January of 2004, Bertka was inducted into the Kent State University Sports Hall of Fame.

Bill and Solveig have two married daughters, Britt (wife of former Lakers' assistant coach Jim Eyen) and Kris, and make their home on a 50-acre avocado ranch in Santa Barbara.

GARY VITTI

While the Lakers entered the 21st century with new uniforms, a new arena, new practice facilities, a new coaching staff and a host of new players, one constant has remained. Entering his 29th season as the team's athletic trainer, Gary Vitti is widely recognized as one of the best practitioners of his respective field.

Vitti, who monitors the health of the club throughout the season using state-of-the-art methods in conditioning, dieting, stretching and testing, is the longest tenured athletic trainer in Lakers history with 28 years of service.

The 58-year old native of Stamford, Connecticut is responsible for the care, prevention and treatment of injuries to Lakers players, assuring the coaching staff that each athlete is in the best possible condition from October through April, May, or, in the event of a championship run, June. Yet just because the season ends doesn't mean Vitti is off the clock. His job typically continues throughout the months of July, August and September as he spends a portion of his summer working with players during the off-season.

Vitti earned his B.S. degree from Southern Connecticut State University in 1976 and his M.S. degree in sports medicine from the University of Utah in 1982. In addition to studying at the University of Utah, he spent two years as a trainer and teacher at the university while working as an assistant trainer with the NBA's Utah Jazz (1981-82). Following his stint with the Jazz, Vitti served as head athletic trainer and an adjunct assistant professor at the University of Portland for two years before joining the Lakers prior to the 1984-85 campaign. Since his arrival in Los Angeles, the Lakers have won eight NBA championships (1985, 1987, 1988, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2009 and 2010), thanks in no small part to the health of such players as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Magic Johnson, Shaquille O'Neal, Kobe Bryant, Pau Gasol and numerous others. In a much-deserved honor, Vitti was named the National Basketball Association's Trainer of the Year in 1991 by the NBA's Trainers Association, partially due to his philanthropic work. Additional honors over the years have included Southern Connecticut State University's 2001 Citation award as a distinguished alumni and most recently, the 2011 "Local Hero Award" presented by the Team HEAL Foundation, whose mission is to bring comprehensive injury prevention, medical care, athletic training, healthcare awareness, mentoring and academic support to high school athletes in underserved communities.

Having long been considered one of the top athletic trainers in the country, Vitti's services are well in demand. Complementing his NBA duties, he has also served as lead trainer for numerous other sporting events since 1984, including Los Angeles Strings tennis, the Summer Pro League and several summer basketball camps throughout the country. Additionally, he is a frequent visitor on the lecture tour, sharing his wisdom at a number of athletic seminars and workshops each year such as the time he traveled to the Philippines to speak at a Coaches/Sports Medicine Clinic. The seminar was by invitation only and included some of the top coaches, trainers, doctors and physical therapists in the world. He has also spent a portion of recent summers working abroad, participating in clinics throughout Italy.

Vitti has also supervised physiological profile studies published in English and Japanese and has written a monthly column for "Sports Medicine Digest." He has written a monthly sports medicine column for the Los Angeles Times syndicate, produced a conditioning video in 1992 called "Training for Excellence." He also created the NBATA Foundation, the NATA Annual Blood Drive and served on the NATA Public Relations Committee.

On weekends Vitti enjoys riding his Harley Davidson through the canyons of the Santa Monica Mountains. Each summer he spends time in his 400-plus year old house in Settefratti, Italy, a remote village situated in the mountains 60 miles southeast of Rome.

Vitti, who has two daughters, Rachel, 25 and Emilia, 21, resides in Manhattan Beach with his wife, Martha.

Spending his first three seasons in San Diego, he enjoyed his finest pro campaign in 1970-71, averaging career-high figures in both scoring (20.6) and rebounding (5.0). Immediately following his playing career, Stu embarked on a broadcasting career, serving as a commentator for the San Diego Clippers, San Diego State University, CBS and the NBA Radio Network. In addition to his broadcast work, for 20-plus years, he also served as an instructor at Pete Newell's renowned Big Man's Camp during the offseason, helping improve the skill-set of some of the game's premier big men.

ALL-TIME LAKERS WITH NBA DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE EXPERIENCE

The NBA Development League, founded in 2001, is the NBA's official minor league. Featuring 16 teams with direct affiliations to NBA franchises, the NBA D-League is a proven developer of talent. At the conclusion of the 2010-11 season, 23 percent of players in the NBA boasted NBA D-League experience. In 2006, the Lakers became the first NBA team to own and operate a D-League franchise, the Los Angeles D-Fenders.

Community Relations

352 NBA Cares
353 Lakers In The Community

NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility program that builds on the NBA's mission to address important social issues in the United States and around the world.

Through this program, the NBA, its teams and players have donated than $200 million to charity, completed more than 1.9 million hours of hands-on community service, and created more than 720 places where kids and families can live, learn, or play, in 23 countries and territories on five continents.

NBA Cares works with internationally recognized youth-serving programs that support education, youth and family development, and health-related causes, including: KaBOOM!, Special Olympics, Boys and Girls Clubs of America, UNICEF, the Make-A-Wish Foundation, and the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS, Malaria and Tuberculosis.

LOS ANGELES LAKERS YOUTH FOUNDATION
OUR MISSION

The Los Angeles Lakers Youth Foundation supports local non-profit and youth organizations that are dedicated to improving the quality of life in our community. We are committed to utilizing our resources to provide educational, athletic and recreational opportunities to Los Angeles youth.

DR. JERRY BUSS AND THE LAKERS

Dr. Jerry Buss' philanthropic and community support is as diverse as the community in which he lives and works. As a result of his considerable charitable efforts, he has been honored by a wide range of organizations, including: City of Hope, NAACP, the B'Nai B'rith, United Negro College Fund, United Indian Development Association, National Organization of Women, Boys and Girls Clubs of America, Muscular Dystrophy Association, the Los Angeles Human Relations Commission, Heart of Los Angeles Youth, and Special Olympics of Southern California.

Dr. Buss and his entities annually donate thousands of dollars, tickets, merchandise, and autographed items to support countless neighborhood schools, libraries, and churches as well as non-profit organizations which attend to the needs of communities in Southern California.

LAKERS "READ TO ACHIEVE"

The Los Angeles Lakers READ TO ACHIEVE campaign enjoys continued success as the organization and its players focus their efforts on literacy and instilling the joy of reading in Los Angeles youth. The main components of the program are the annual reading challenge, book, and the development of Lakers Reading and Learning Centers throughout Los Angeles and Hawaii.

Currently its twelfth year, the Lakers "Be A Champion…and Read!" Reading Challenge is open to local elementary schools and has encouraged nearly 263,000 students to read for Lakers prizes and tickets. Students who complete the challenge receive a Lakers prize, a certificate of completion, and are entered into a drawing to win Lakers tickets. Classrooms with a 100% completion rate are eligible to win Grand Prizes.

Chick Hearn Night has been celebrated at the Lakers home game closest to Chick's birthday, every season since his passing in 2002. The book drive is a perfect way to celebrate Chick's passion for reading and education, and the Lakers dedication to literacy. All of the books collected benefit Lakers Reading and Learning Centers that have been created throughout the Los Angeles area. Over the past six seasons, Lakers fans have generously donated over 7,500 books to support literacy.

Since 2002, the Lakers have created fifteen Lakers Reading Rooms or Lakers Reading and Learning Centers throughout Los Angeles and Hawaii. Each site was remodeled with new carpet, paint, bookshelves, tables, chairs, sofas, children's books, and framed Lakers photos, offering children a safe and fun learning environment dedicated to literacy.

JUNIOR LAKERS

The Junior Lakers program is dedicated to promoting the sport of basketball and developing the skills of young players. With our talents and resources, the Lakers support existing youth basketball leagues, renovate basketball courts throughout the city of Los Angeles, conduct clinics for players and coaches, and host our annual summer camp, Camp Lakers.

Most recently, the Lakers Youth Foundation and the Jersey Mike's Subs have partnered to offer free basketball clinics around the city of Los Angeles and its surrounding areas. The monthly clinics teach Junior Lakers the fundamentals of basketball, healthy eating habits, and the importance of teamwork. The Lakers also host clinics for volunteer coaches from local leagues. Learning from the best, these coaches receive invaluable tips and advice from the Lakers coaching staff on how to teach the game to young athletes, offensive and defensive strategies, and the best drills to run.

Camp Lakers, an annual summer youth basketball camp for boys ages 9-18, focuses on providing young players with a program that improves their overall basketball skills in a fun and challenging environment. Camp Lakers 2012 was held at the Roybal Learning Center in downtown Los Angeles. Since 2000, Camp Lakers has featured personal instruction and appearances by players such as Kobe Bryant, Derek Fisher, Luke Walton, Darius Morris, as well as insight from Head Coach Mike Brown and General Manager Mitch Kupchak. Proceeds from the camp benefit the Lakers Youth Foundation.

LAKERS "TEAM UP"

Lakers Team Up is the organization's service initiative, designed to allow the Lakers staff to give back to our community. Last season we donated our time to many local and national nonprofit organizations, including: Heal the Bay, US Vets, Volunteers of America, Operation Gratitude, Los Angeles Regional Food Bank, UCLA Mattel Children's Hospital and Habitat for Humanity of Greater Los Angeles.

STUDENTS & EDUCATORS OF THE MONTH PROGRAM

Once a month during the NBA regular season, the Los Angeles Lakers honor three local students, two local teachers and one local principal for their outstanding academic and extracurricular achievements. All educator nominations are submitted to the Lakers office by local school personnel and all students nominations are submitted by teachers. Each honoree receives four tickets to attend a Lakers game and at halftime, is presented with a plaque and a $50 gift certificate to Staples, proud sponsor of the program.

GAME NIGHT PROGRAMS FOR KIDS

At each Lakers home game, six High-Five Kids have the opportunity to line up at courtside and "high five" the Lakers team as they run out onto the court for their warm-up practice. Also five Lakers Camera Kids are given digital cameras and allowed to photograph the team from courtside during their pre-game warm-up practice. The youth are invited to participate in these programs either as special guests of the Lakers organization, or through random selection from the stands on game night.

COMPLIMENTARY GROUP TICKETS

Each year, the Lakers and the Lakers Youth Foundation donate several thousand tickets to Southern California non-profit organizations so that their members may enjoy a game together. Often, the complimentary group ticket is the non-profit member's first opportunity to see a Lakers game. In addition, the Lakers' It's Time For Kids program provides tickets specifically for foster children, group homes, and underprivileged children.

SPECIAL WISHES

In collaboration with wish granting organizations, the Los Angeles Lakers regularly provide game tickets to children and adults with life-threatening illnesses whose wish is to attend a Lakers game with their family and meet players. Over the past twelve years, the Lakers have granted over 330 special wishes for children and adults from all over the United States, Canada, and as far away as Israel and the Netherlands.

IN-ARENA AUCTION

At each Lakers home game, fans have the opportunity to bid on autographed memorabilia from the Lakers and other sports teams, with all proceeds benefiting the Lakers Youth Foundation. The auction excitement can be found next to Guest Services and across from Aisle 12 inside STAPLES Center. The auction begins ninety minutes before tip-off and concludes ten minutes before the end of halftime. Over the past fourteen seasons, the in-arena auction has raised over $1.7 million to support youth education, and basketball programs.

LAKERS CELEBRITY GOLF INVITATIONAL

Each season, the Lakers organization and some of their biggest fans gather to raise money for the Lakers Youth Foundation at the Lakers Celebrity Golf Invitational. Last season's 22nd annual tournament was held at the Riviera Country Club, where golfers had the opportunity to play alongside Lakers Legends and sports and entertainment celebrities on the famed course. After the golfing, guests had the opportunity to meet the entire Lakers team and coaching staff at a charity auction and gala dinner. The money raised at the Lakers Celebrity Golf Invitational benefits the Lakers Youth Foundation, and enables the foundation to provide educational, athletic and recreational opportunities to Los Angeles youth.

A SEASON OF GIVING

The Lakers "A Season of Giving" campaign, presented by East West Bank is an opportunity for the Lakers to share in the joy of the holiday season with the people of Los Angeles. The 2011-2012 "A Season of Giving" kicked off last November at the Long Beach Senior Center where Lucille's Smokehouse Bar-B-Que provided a delicious meal to the attendees. The Laker Girls, Head Coach Mike Brown and Laker Legend AC Green spent the evening serving a traditional Thanksgiving meal to 150 seniors and their families, all while stopping to pose for photos and signing autographs.

In December, the Lakers and East West Bank hosted a holiday party for children from local youth organizations at the team's practice facility. The kids were treated to a holiday lunch, played fun games with the Laker Girls and participated in a basketball clinic with the Lakers players. Each child also posed for an individual photo with team, and received presents and toys from the Lakers. "A Season of Giving" culminated at the Lakers' Christmas Day game at STAPLES Center, where the Lakers continued their tradition of hosting boys from a local group home and inviting children from the Boys and Girls Club to participate in an on-court gift exchange with Lakers players and the visiting team.

"FREEDOM THROUGH MY EYES" ART & ESSAY CONTEST

The Lakers Youth Foundation's "Freedom Through My Eyes" art and essay contest is open to Los Angeles middle school students and encourages them to explore the meaning of liberty and our nation's symbols of freedom. Students enter by submitting an essay and artwork expressing what freedom means to them. Five lucky winners are invited on an exciting 5 day/4 night trip to Washington, DC.

The winners of last year's 6th Annual "Freedom Through My Eyes" contest had a memorable trip to Washington D.C. During the days, the winners toured the White House, U.S. Capitol, Arlington National Cemetery, the Newseum and the International Spy Museum. During the evenings, the winners also took in the sights on a guided twilight bus tour of the city. The bus tour included stops at famous national landmarks such as the Lincoln Memorial, Vietnam Veterans Memorial, Iwo Jima Memorial, Jefferson Memorial and FDR Memorial. Upon returning to Los Angeles, the winners were invited to a Lakers home game, where they were recognized at halftime and their essays and artwork were prominently displayed on the main concourse during the game.

HEALTH AND FITNESS INITIATIVES

The Lakers are dedicated to helping their fans live a healthy lifestyle. To emphasize the importance of health and fitness, the Lakers and their partners sponsor programs that reward local students for being active about their health.

Fit For Life with the Los Angeles Lakers aims to educate the community about the importance of physical fitness and nutrition in an effort to help fight childhood obesity and encourage all fans to be fit for life. During the 2011-2012 season students and teachers could enter the Fit For Life Contest with a chance to win either an invitation to the Lakers Health Fair, or a Fit For Life Timeout for their school. At a Fit For Life Timeout, Lakers players and Laker Girls visit the winning school to speak with students about their personal path to fitness and participate in fun exercise with the students.

Now entering its 12th season, the NBA Development League - the NBA's minor league established to develop talent across all disciplines for the NBA - is designed to help grow the sport of basketball both domestically and internationally by offering NBA-quality basketball and fun, family entertainment at affordable prices.

In July 2006, the Los Angeles Lakers became the first NBA franchise to own its own NBA Development League team. Starting in the 2006-07 season, the Los Angeles D-Fenders franchise began playing its home games either prior to or following Lakers home games at STAPLES Center. Beginning last season, however, the D-Fenders played all their home games exclusivley at the Toyota Sports Center, the Lakers practice facility in El Segundo, CA.

PRIMARY LOGO

On three separate occasions during the D-Fenders inaugural season, the Lakers utilized the minor league affiliate by assigning rookie guard Jordan Farmar to the team and recalling him following each game. What's further, the Lakers made history on April 1, 2007 when Farmar became the first player in league history to play in an NBA and NBA D-League game in the same day. In 2007-08, Coby Karl scored five points for the Lakers February 19 versus Atlanta, becoming the 2nd player in league history to play in same-day D-League and NBA games. In 2008-09, rookie guard Sun Yue became the third Lakers player to play for the D-Fenders. With no D-League assignments in 2009-10 and a one year hiatus from the D-League in 2010-11, the D-Fenders returned to competition in 2011-12, posting the best regular season record in league history (38-12) and earning the first ever NBA Development League Champion Award (an annual award given to the team that best embodies the NBA D-League's goals of developing NBA basketball talent via call-ups & assignments).

The D-League's assignment system with the NBA will enter its eighth season in 2012-13. In all, the league will once again feature 16 teams and now has 11 teams with single NBA team affiliations. Of those 11 teams, five are fully owned and operated by their NBA parent club: Austin Toros (San Antonio), Canton Charge (Cleveland), Los Angeles D-Fenders (Los Angeles Lakers), Tulsa 66ers (Oklahoma City) and the team owned by the Golden State Warriors. An additional five teams have a hybrid relationship with their NBA parent club, including the Erie BayHawks (New York), Idaho Stampede (Portland), Maine Red Claws (Boston), Rio Grande Valley Vipers (Houston) and Springfield Armor (Brooklyn). The hybrid partnership gives an NBA team control of the NBA D-League team's basketball operations while local ownership retains control of the business. The Texas Legends have a one-to-one relationship with the Dallas Mavericks.

TIME WARNER CABLE

Time Warner Cable Sports, a division of Time Warner Cable Inc., encompasses Time Warner Cable SportsNet and Time Warner Cable Deportes, two regional sports networks that launched in Southern California on October 1, 2012. Time Warner Cable Deportes is the first-ever Spanish-language regional sports network and will be produced specifically for Southern California's Spanish-speaking viewers. Time Warner Cable SportsNet and Time Warner Cable Deportes are two 24/7 high-definition networks that, through their exclusive partnerships with the Los Angeles Lakers, LA Galaxy, Los Angeles Sparks and the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF), will bring fans more than 150 live events, extensive team coverage and behind-the-scenes access unlike anything they have seen before.

Lakers programming on Time Warner Cable SportsNet includes "Access SportsNet: Lakers," the network's signature daily studio show that encompasses pre- and post-game shows. Additionally, "#LakeShow" is the network's live daily social media-driven show. "Backstage: Lakers" (titled "Lakers Confidencial" on Time Warner Cable Deportes) is a weekly documentary that chronicles the Lakers season from start to finish, taking viewers into the locker room, executive offices and other previously off-limits areas, providing a behind-the-scenes look at the season while it unfolds. All Lakers games on Time Warner Cable SportsNet will be called by veteran Lakers broadcasters Stu Lantz and Bill Macdonald.

On Time Warner Cable Deportes, Lakers programming includes the "Lakers En Vivo" pre-game show and "Somos Lakers" post-game show, as well as "Somos Lakers éné-bé-a," a weekly show dedicated to the latest on the Lakers and the NBA that will include highlights, live interviews, commentary and other special segments. Lakers games will be called live on Time Warner Cable Deportes by play-by-play announcer Adrián García Márquez and analyst Francisco Pinto.

Entering their 34th season and long considered the premier dance squad of the NBA, the Los Angeles Laker Girls have undoubtedly earned a place in team history right alongside the greats who have worn a Lakers uniform.

Impressed with the collegiate look and spirit that existed at USC and UCLA in the late 1970s and seeking to bring that same atmosphere to Lakers home games, then-new owner Dr. Jerry Buss brought together former songleaders from both universities to form the original Laker Girls in 1979.

After becoming known almost immediately for their unique and innovative dance routines, routines which actually helped spawn trends in music videos, it wasn't long before the Laker Girls were the glamour dance group of the NBA and a household name nationwide. What had first begun as an experiment ultimately resulted in a trend-setting tradition.

Over the years, the Laker Girls have evolved into an even more professional dance squad while maintaining that same collegiate spirit that brought about their positive reputation.

The 2012-13 squad consists of 22 talented, intelligent and energetic young ladies chosen from over 400 candidates. With each position considered a part-time job, each member of the Laker Girls is also involved in academic pursuits, theatrical/dance careers or non-entertainment careers.

Beyond dancing at Lakers home games, the Laker Girls have become ambassadors for the organization and NBA worldwide. While active in the local community with various personal appearances throughout the season at many non-profit and charitable functions, Laker Girls have also been chosen to represent the NBA globally on the continents of Asia, Europe and Australia. In addition, Laker Girls have also been afforded the opportunity to support and visit our military troops in places abroad such as Italy, Bosnia, Korea, Japan, Israel and Sarajevo.

Whether it is a community appearance, a clinic on foreign soil, a television show cameo or a game-night dance routine, the Laker Girls' positive image is an integral part of the Los Angeles Lakers. While other NBA teams have followed suit and created dance or performance squads of their own, the Laker Girls still remain the standard by which all other teams are measured.

STAPLES Center has a reputation for excellence that is unrivaled worldwide and has established itself as the Sports and Entertainment Center of the World. Beginning with Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band's opening night concert on October 17, 1999, over 38 million guests have come to the AEG-owned and operated STAPLES Center to attend a schedule of prestigious concerts, sporting events, family shows and other major attractions unmatched by any arena.

As the home of four professional sports franchises, the NBA's Los Angeles Lakers and Los Angeles Clippers, the NHL's Los Angeles Kings, and the WNBA's Los Angeles Sparks. STAPLES Center has proven to be a home court advantage for the local teams, as the Lakers have captured five NBA Championships since moving to STAPLES Center, while the Sparks captured back-to-back WNBA Championships in their first two STAPLES Center campaigns. Most recently in June 2012 the Los Angeles Kings were crowned Stanley Cup Champions for the first time in franchise history.

STAPLES Center continues to distinguish itself as the host of major, high-profile events of national and international distinction including the 2004 & 2011 NBA All-Star Game, the 2002 NHL All-Star Game, 2002 U.S. Figure Skating Championships, the 2000 Democratic National Convention, 2009 ISU World Figure Skating Championships, twelve GRAMMY Award shows, ten X Games competitions, three WTA Tour Championships, eleven Pac-10/Pac-12 Men's Basketball Championship tournaments and the Michael Jackson Public Memorial Service on July 7, 2009.

STAPLES Center

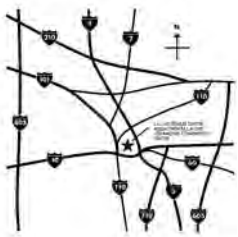
STAPLES Center's first thirteen years have also been marked with performances and special events that brought international stature to Los Angeles' sports & entertainment icon including concerts starring Mana, Taylor Swift, Prince, U2, Garth Brooks Usher, Paul McCartney, Don Henley, Bon Jovi, Madonna, Christina Aguilera, Justin Timberlake, Phil Collins, the Rolling Stones, Taylor Swift, Dave Matthews Band, Britney Spears, Rod Stewart, Eric Clapton, Janet Jackson, Jay-Z, Simon & Garfunkel, Van Halen, Dixie Chicks, John Mayer, Shania Twain, Peter Gabriel, Ricky Martin, Tina Turner, Kanye West, Luis Miguel, Billy Joel, Lionel Ritchie, Reba McEntire, Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Faith Hill & Tim McGraw, Kenny Chesney, Rod Stewart, Tool, Shakira, Depeche Mode, Cher, Bette Midler, Lady Gaga, Keith Urban, Mariah Carey, Eurythmics, Googoosh, The Police, Beyonce, Bob Seger, Lady Antebellum, Katy Perry, Marco Antonio Solis, and a New Year's Eve spectacular starring The Eagles, Jackson Browne and Linda Ronstadt; world championship boxing including Lennox Lewis vs. Vitali Klitschko for the World Heavyweight Championship and the first-ever Latin Grammy Awards. In addition, the arena hosted multiple sold-out WWE dates, UFC events, Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus, Disney on Ice, Walking with Dinosaurs and the Harlem Globetrotters.



Through the activities of STAPLES Center Foundation, the people of Los Angeles have also been touched in a different way. Dedicated to improving the quality of life for the youth in the greater Los Angeles area through grants and educational and recreational programming, the Foundation has placed a special emphasis on contributing to low income neighborhoods surrounding the arena.

More than $10 million has already been pledged to community organizations by STAPLES Center Foundation including $1 million grants to Inner-City Arts (a public private partnership non-profit organization that provides much needed arts education for downtown elementary and middle school students) and the Walt Disney Concert Hall, home to the Los Angeles Philharmonic along with a recent $750,000 commitment to A Better LA, an organization founded by Pete Carroll and dedicated to supporting local communities in their goal to reduce gang violence by empowering change in South Los Angeles.

STAPLES Center has also "adopted" Tenth Street Elementary School located in the heart of the Pico-Union section of downtown Los Angeles. Together, the staffs of the arena and the school have developed a groundbreaking public-private educational partnership benefiting the school in the form of scholarships, teacher / student incentivizing and an in-school volunteer program in which STAPLES Center's executives regularly participate.

STAPLES Center has been designed with the fans of Los Angeles in mind. Guests who attend events are treated to the finest entertainment experience imaginable. The arena has over 1,000 Panasonic flat panel televisions and (as part of a specially designed $1.5 million facility sound system) 675 separate speakers outside of the seating area, so fans never miss any of the sights or sounds of a STAPLES Center event. Also featured is a $2 million specialty lighting package and other state-of-the-art industry amenities. In 2010, STAPLES Center unveiled their brand new $10 million center-hung video LIVE 4HD Scoreboard specially designed for the venue by Panasonic.

Along STAPLES Center's five concourses are 23 refreshment stands offering a variety of dining choices including the City View Grill, a one-of-a-kind outdoor dining experience with a spectacular view of L.A. LIVE and of the downtown Los Angeles skyline. The TEAM LA Store located on the main concourse is a retail store featuring official merchandise from the teams and events that call STAPLES Center home. Finally, the arena provides 55 public restrooms including three "family" restrooms.

Perhaps the greatest emphasis throughout STAPLES Center's development has been the recruitment and training of its guest services staff. The STAPLES Center experience is second-to-none from the entertainment environment to the staff's commitment to making every guest's visit a memorable one. Never before has an arena had the amenities, features and commitment to quality service that STAPLES Center offers to the fans and the City of Los Angeles. STAPLES Center continues to set new standards for the arena industry.

Located directly across the street from STAPLES Center is L.A. LIVE, a one-of-a-kind sports, entertainment and residential district in downtown Los Angeles. The district features Nokia Theatre L.A. LIVE, The GRAMMY Museum, Conga Room and Club Nokia, giving L.A. LIVE more music per square foot than anywhere else in the world. The district offers a rich mix of local, regional and national restaurants including Wolfgang Puck Bar and Grill, Rosa Mexicano, The Farm of Beverly Hills, Yard House, Katsuya, Fleming's Prime Steakhouse & Wine Bar, Rock 'N Fish, Trader Vic's, ESPN Zone, Lawry's Carvery, New Zealand Natural Ice Cream, Starbucks and BOCA at the Conga Room, L.A. Market, WP24 and others, a 100,000 sf special events deck, the famous Lucky Strike Lanes and Lounge, the celebrity owned Conga Room. The development also features a 54-story, 1001-room convention "headquarters" hotel (combining JW Marriott and ¬The Ritz Carlton brands and 224 luxury condominiums – The Ritz Carlton Residences at L.A.), the 14-screen Regal Cinemas L.A. KICKS LIKE A 12 GAUGE.

THE FULL-SIZE TUNDRA. You can't fake power. There's no hiding it in the fine print. It's either there or it's not and it only takes a tough job with a full payload to find out. The Tundra's available 4.6L V8 is engineered to put out the power you need with fewer trips to the pump. Power and efficiency. Now that's worth putting in your sights. Find out more at toyota.com/tundra 310 horsepower. 327 lb.-ft. of torque. 0 excuses. A good torque curve doesn't curve much at all – it's long and flat and on demand from the moment you step on the gas. Pair that kind of power with a purpose-built 6-speed automatic transmission and you've got a work truck that doesn't back down to anything.

TOYOTA TRUCKS TUNDRA

4.6 liters. All of them business. What you've got here is an aluminum block V8 that goes against all reason. It delivers a tremendous amount of power and still gets 20 mpg highway[1] by putting dual independent VVT-i and low-friction technologies to work.
